Conflicts that affected Sirte in 2011 and again in 2016 damaged important infrastructure in the municipality and forced many families to seek refuge in other areas. The Talea Al Naser School was also affected, making it impossible for staff to provide quality education. After its rehabilitation by UNDP’s Stabilization Facility for Libya, the school now accommodates up to 950 students who are able to study in adequate conditions. It is also likely to encourage the return of displaced families who used to live in the area. The handover of the school took place on 15 April 2021.

As of 30 June 2021, under SFL Output 1, there were a total of 157 projects in Tripoli, including 150 completed, six ongoing, and one in development.

In response to numerous challenges associated with wastewater mismanagement by the National Heart Center in Tajoura, Tripoli, and dysfunctional wastewater treatment plant in the city, which caused pollution, and generated diseases and unpleasant odor making residents living nearby feel uncomfortable, UNDP Stabilization Facility for Libya supported the installation of a new portable treatment plant with a capacity of 400 m³/day.

The support has allowed the medical institution to become cleaner and to continue to provide quality healthcare services to over 15,000 people annually. At the same time, more than 1,400 residents living nearby no longer suffer from negative effects generated by untreated wastewater, and the processing capacity allows to treat sewage in the neighborhood, generate reusable water for irrigation, and sustain green spaces.
