“I believe that the fair met a key objective of being a useful platform for exchange of information and experiences among organisations that are grant recipients of GEF SGP funding, and there was indeed a wealth of information being exchange during the course of the day.”

Green on the Avenue

Ariapita Avenue is one of the popular ‘hot spots’ for a variety of restaurants, dance clubs and liming zones. “Green on the Avenue” transformed Adam Smith Square on May 31st into interactive fair filled with vendor tents, a GEF SGP tent strategically positioned and an entertainment stage – all used as a promotional tool to generate buzz for the Knowledge Fair and to promote environmental awareness.

Interesting items

Green on the Avenue showcased products using natural and recyclable products.
More on Green...

The Green on the Avenue, was a fun, creative and non-confrontational strategy to share the importance of the environment with the public. GEF SGP UNDP outreached to the community-at-large and Green on Avenue served to sensitize the public to environmental practices supported by GEF SGP UNDP programme and to the diversity of organizations engaged in developing eco-friendly products.

GEF SGP UNDP KNOWLEDGE FAIR 2013

The theme of GEF SGP UNDP Knowledge Fair was “Share to Protect” Trinidad and Tobago environment. The Knowledge Fair agenda focused on environmental sustainable development strategies, exchange of information, multidisciplinary approaches, best practices, innovations, inspirational stories and the clarification of environmental policies. The Knowledge Fair provided an opportunity for dialogue and exchange and helped participants to view, participate and meet with organizations and institution working towards a sustainable environmental future for Trinidad and Tobago.

GEF SGP Grantees exchanging experiences about environmental action and protection strategies and raising awareness about their programmes and its missions.
